

Reaching far beyond CFL bulbs and planting a tree, Environmental Change-Making reveals how to make your greening efforts potent, contagious, and lasting.

Learn how to cultivate community connections through grassroots environmental solutions. Experience the success story of a group that is doing it!

A huge part of change-making is creating a shift within our hearts, minds, and spirits. Environmental Change-Making addresses the spiritual roots behind earth-wiser action with an approach that is inclusive, applicable both to faith communities and to secular groups.

Solving massive environmental problems like global warming, biocapacity, and the end of cheap oil takes much more than a mere switch to “Brand Green.” It takes a fundamental change in our deepest understanding of ourselves and how we fit into the ecosystems of the planet.

Environmental Change-Making explains environmental paradigm change: what it really means, how it unfolds, and how to get it started in your local community.

Joanne Poyourow and The Reverend Peter H. Rood, Jr., are co-founders of the Environmental Change-Makers, a community group which focuses on positive environmental solutions.

Father Peter Rood is the rector of Holy Nativity Episcopal Church in the Westchester area of Los Angeles. He is the director of the World Community for Christian Meditation and is involved in social activism and interested in interfaith dialog.

Joanne Poyourow is the author of Legacy: A Story of Hope for a Time of Environmental Crisis and numerous environmental articles. Her work encourages people to visualize and step into an earth-wiser future.
